VOLUME LXXI.

GRENADA, MISSISSIPPI, FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1923.

NUMBER 13.

GLENWILD PLANTATION WILL AUCTION DUROCS

Many Fine Hogs to be Offered to Highest Bidder at Auction Sale to be Held at Glenwild Saturday.

Glenwild Plantation, famous for its herds of purebred cattle and fine hogs, will hold an auction sale of Pure Bred Durocs on Saturday, August 18, at 1:30 p. m. One fall boar and five spring boars and thirty-five young sows and gilts bred to the well-known boars, Scissors, Jackson's Orion King, Jack T and Exterminator, will be offered for sale to the highest bidder and a large number of prospective buyers have already indicated their intention of attending the sale.

The Glenwild herd of hogs was recently augmented by the herds from Pine Crest Farm at Charleston and the Fernwood Farms at Fernwood, making it one of the best in the country.

BOARD CONTRACTS FOR WEST HIGHWAY

To Be Built With Federal Aid, Practically Follows Old Road to Tallahatchie County Line.

The Board of Supervisors of Grenada County Saturday, Aug. 11, let the contract for the construction of sixteen miles of graveled road running from the corporate limits of the town of Grenada westward, practically following the old road through Dubard, Holcomb, Oxberry and on to the Tallahatchie County line. The contract was awarded to J. R. Stroudy of Okolona, Miss., at the price of $115,940.97 and is to be completed by Dec. 15, 1924. The Federal Government is to bear part of the cost of the road and it will be built according to government specifications, the bridges being of creosoted timbers and the culverts of concrete. When it is completed, Grenada County will have approximately forty-five miles of hard-surfaced road as good as any in the State.

The contract for the road east of Grenada was not let on account of the bids being too high. There has been a deal of protest from various taxpayers in the eastern portion of the county relative to this road and the contractors, it is thought, made their bids unusually high because of the fear that they would possibly become involved in litigation over the payments. The Board will re-advertise for bids on the east project.

SISSON-NORTON

Miss Cecil Brooks Norton was married yesterday afternoon to former Representative Thomas Upton Sisson of Mississippi in the apartment of Mrs. La Salle Corbell Pickett, widow of Gen. George E. Pickett, at the Ontario. Bishop William F. McDowell of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiated at 4 o'clock in the presence of a small company of relatives and intimate friends. The apartment had a pretty arrangement of ferns and gladioluses.

The bride wore a gown of cream net hand embroidered and made over cream satin, the net falling in uneven drapery below the satin skirt and forming a cape across the shoulders. Her large hat was of Neapolitan straw, with gracefully rolling brim trimmed with apple and orange blossoms.

Miss Alice Pollock was her only attendant, and wore pink chiffon made full and long, with panel effect back and front. She wore no hat.

Representative Albert H. Vestal was best man for Mr. Sisson, who, with his bride, left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip.

Active Civic Worker

Mrs. Sisson has been active in the civic and educational affairs of Washington for ten years and was one of the pioneer workers for the establishment of community centers in the District, in which work she had the assistance of Miss Margaret Wilson. Mrs. Sisson has been general director of the community center department of the public schools for six years. During the fourteen years that Mr. Sisson represented the

L. C. Franklin Makes Statement

Is Grateful to His Friends and Tells What He Tried to Stand For in the Race. Goes Back to Law Practice and Private Business.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 9, 1923. To the People of Mississippi:

I am convinced by the official returns received to date that I will not be in the second primary for Governor. Moved as I am by a profound sense of gratitude. I hereby sincerely thank the thousands of my friends who so loyally stood by me in the campaign. The day will never be too cold or too hot, the road too long or too rough for me to gladly go to their assistance if they need me.

I conducted a clean, high-class campaign. I tried at all times to remain within the realm of legitimate discussion. In all my speeches I avoided references to the personal qualities and private character of the gentlemen whose ambitions happened to cross mine in the contest. I did not want the office if it had to be won by personal abuse, misrepresentation and upon the demerits of some other man. I had no money to use improperly to try to bring about my nomination. I would not have paid a penny to buy a vote or mislead a voter.

I love my native State, I am proud of the achievements and progress which has been made by her noble men and women. I have confidence in her future. I know she will continue to move forward, onward and upward to greater, grander and more glorious things; and I hope as she moves on and on that the great teeming, toiling masses of her people who in times of peace send pulsating through the arteries of commerce the rich blood of prosperity, and who in times of war send out their manly sons in overwhelming numbers to baptize her in their blood and tears, will ever enjoy peace, happiness and prosperity.

My face is turned to the future. I shall return to my profession and private affairs always ready to serve the best interests of the people of Mississippi to the full measure of my strength of mind, of heart and body. To those who saw fit to oppose me I desire to say that I harbor no ill will, malice or hatred, and by the help of God I am going to try to live and act as a private citizen as to merit their confidence and respect in the future.

I hope that in the days to come we again may make a fight for those fundamental principles of government that mean so much in the making of our State a greater, grander and more glorious Mississippi. May God bless you all.

Sincerely and faithfully yours,
LESTER C. FRANKLIN.

THOMASON EX-

PRESSES GRATITUDE

To the People of Grenada County:

I want to publicly express to you my deepest appreciation of the splendid vote given me in my race for Chancery Clerk on last Tuesday, Aug. 7, when I was nominated by your ballots. I shall always remember with the most pleasant recollections the many courtesies extended me by the good people all over the county during my candidacy. I bear no ill-feeling toward anyone and I feel that all of you are my friends whether you voted for me or not. I shall endeavor to show my appreciation of your confidence in me by making you an accommodating, efficient and obliging clerk and want you all to feel free to call on me at any time for whatever service I can render you in the office.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) GLEN D. THOMASON

Former Representative and Mrs. Sisson will be at home after Oct. 1, in Winona, Miss.—Washington Star, July 22, 1923.

HENRY L. WHITFIELD

BIG RALLY HELD IN JACKSON FOR MISSISSIPPI'S REDEMPTION

Great Gathering at Capital City Monday Night. Marion Reily Gets Splendid Ovation. A United Pull to be Made to Elect Whitfield by 40,000 Majority. State Committee Meets and Declares Result. Only State Candidates to be on Ticket at Second Primary Will Be for Governor and for Commissioner of Agriculture. Garner Picked as Winner in Latter Race. General Gossip from State Capital.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 14.—The first battle of ballots is over. The vanquished have gone to their tents while those left for the second round are buckling on their armors. There will be but the candidates for two state offices which will appear on the ticket at the second primary, that for the governorship and for commissioner of agriculture.

Whitfield leads Bilbo 20,000 votes for Governor and P. P. Garner, the present commissioner of agriculture, leads his opponent about 40,000. It is generally conceded that Garner will be the winner for commissioner of agriculture by 25,000 votes and it is a fair interpretation of the public mind as one gathers it from those who come to Jackson from every quarter of the State, that Whitfield will win the governorship over Bilbo by at least 35,000 majority.

There was a Whitfield rally held here Monday night. It was one of the biggest political gatherings Jackson ever saw. Several speeches were made. Alf Stone told in a business like way what he said he was authorized to say for Mr. Whitfield as to the management of the state's business affairs. State Senator Love of Hattiesburg spoke, Hubert D. Stephens made a stirring address, carrying out what he promised last year when such a bitter fight was made on him. The Senator promised to be ever ready to unsheath his sword whenever any of the crowd who had maligned him stuck their heads up for office. Rush Knox, who had just been accorded the distinction of defeating both Potter and Burch for attorney general, made a speech that thrilled his audience. Ex-Congressman Venable of Clarksdale also made an address which appealed to the reason of the people. But it was left to Hon. Marion Reily of Meridian to absolutely sweep his audience off their feet and to get an ovation rarely accorded a political speaker. After speaking about fifteen minutes, and the perspiration had begun to flow copiously, Mr. Reily's collar began to bind his neck, he just grabbed it and tore it off and this still further electrified the audience. When he had concluded and sat down, the crowd continued to yell for him and he had to arise three times and make acknowledgments. Whitfield's stock was already above par, but its value increased almost like magic by Reily's speech.

A Whitfield Speaker's bureau has been organized with F. S. Harmon, who was at Conner's campaign headquarters, and it is understood that such men as Gov. Brewer, Senator Stephens, Marion Reily and many other are scheduled to make speeches in different parts of the State.

Conner in his statement says he will vote for Whitfield, so does Judge Percy Bell and in view of Bilbo's double crossing Franklin, the guessing ones are saying that Franklin cannot vote for Bilbo. It is evident that the old Vardaman machine has been run upon the rocks by Bilbo and Russell, and with an organization like the one that is being perfected over the State for Whitfield, and with what is termed the anti-Vardaman element almost a unit, it seems that the Ex-Governor of a varied notoriety is riding to another defeat such as Judge Paul Johnson gave him when he ran for congress in the 6th district while he was Governor.

Everywhere one hears "Mississippi has awakened" and that the State must be redeemed politically, and it is marvellous even to the casual observer that those who have been active in preaching the redemption doctrine for a number of years are solid for Whitfield and that they are determined to use him as the instrument to make the final, crashing blow to Bilboism.

The following is the official vote as announced by the State Executive Committee:

Governor: Whitfield 84,955; Bilbo 65,178; Conner 49,146, Franklin 37,318; Bell 17,956.
Lieutenant governor: Murphree 122,818; Money 103,065.
Secretary of state: Power 121,372; Wood 99,946.
Attorney General: Knox 128,392; Burch 50,184; Potter 53,329. Majority for Knox 24,080.
Auditor: Riley 154,258; DinKins 60,098.
Treasurer: Lowry 169,006; Cudabac 51,938.
State revenue agent: Miller 124,233; Robertson 114,189.
Insurance commissioner: Henry 133,680; Bagnell 88,336.
Land Commissioner: Moore 118,672; Christmas 91,085.
Superintendent of education: Bond 141,715; Woodley 86,396.
Commissioner of Agriculture: Garner 99,104; Holton 63,823; Howerton 56,000. Second primary between Garner and Holton.
Railroad commissioner: Northern district Horn 903; Lagrone 31,124; O'Bryant 30,765; Sykes 23,118. Second primary between Lagrone and O'Bryant.

Statement From Mike Conner

Thanks His Friends and Says That He Has Been Waging a Fight Against Bilboism and that He Will So Vote in Second Primary.

"To my friends:
"It now appears that we have been eliminated from the second primary. From a heart broken by the loss of my dear father and life-long companion, there flows to each of you my deepest appreciation of your efforts in behalf of our cause. No man was ever blessed with truer and more unselfish friends and I pledge you to prove my gratitude by keeping always before me the ideals of my father, his unselfish devotion to others, his undying allegiance to rugged principles, his definite outspokenness and absolute freedom from hypocrisy, ideals I can never hope to realize to the degree he did. I shall stand ever ready to answer your call under any and all circumstances.

"We fought a good fight for principles, we kept the faith, and not in vain. We lost at the polls, but those principles will never die. I am proud of the basis of our appeal and I shall be content with the result. We did our best and we have no excuses to offer. Whatever in the ranks of private life, or elsewhere my love for Mississippi is unabated, and I want all the people to know I am with you always for a cleaner, more prosperous state in which to rear our children.

"It would be gross presumption in me to assume that any great number of people are interested knowing how I vote in the second primary. My friends will be controlled by wisdom and patriotism without suggestion from me. I have fought political dictation, sneaking hypocrisy, and public corruption always.

No person who knows anything about campaigns will doubt where I stand now. Our campaign was consistent with my record and my vote will be consistent with our campaign. I have opposed Bilboism in the past, I shall continue to oppose it now and in the future.

"Everywhere I went in the campaign the people of all views were generous, kind and respectful to me far beyond my deserts. I am a better and prouder Mississippian from having mingled with our people in this fight. I have in my heart only kindness and charity for all bitterness and malice for none. I have an abiding and lasting faith in the integrity of our people and the future of our state.

"Our appeal was addressed to the minds and consciences of the people. We told them we would scorn their suffrage upon any other basis. We discussed specific remedies. We backed promises with an official record. We declined to indulge in personal abuse, either expressly or by cowardly insinuations, but we exposed all public records and carried the truth to the people without fear or favor, and without regard to political expediency. If we couldn't win that way, then we are proud to lose for my dear friends.

"When the last Great Scorer comes to mark against your name, He writes, not that you won or lost, But how you played the game."

"After having given eight of the best years of my life in effort to serve our state to the best of my limited ability, in an office that did not pay living expenses for the time I actually engaged, I now am free to concentrate my efforts to my long neglected private interests, with only pleasant memories and no regrets. The consciousness of having done my best and the wealth of noble friends I have won are the only rewards I crave, and those are mine most abundantly.

"Wishing for you unmeasured happiness and for our state unlimited prosperity, I am,

"Faithfully yours always,
SENNETT CONNER."

BREWER-STEPHENS TO BE HERE TONIGHT

Ex-Governor and Junior Senator Will Speak at Whitfield Rally Tonight. Sparks Expected to Fly.

A Whitfield rally is planned for Grenada County at the Park in the public square on tonight August 17, at 8 o'clock at which time Ex-Gov. Earl Brewer and Senator Hubert Stephens will speak. These gentlemen will no doubt tell their audience some thrilling things and all who come may rest assured that they will hear splendid and appealing appeals as to why every good citizen and thoughtful and honest minded Mississippian should get squarely behind Whitfield and make August 28 an epoch-making one in the history of Mississippi.

Both Gov. Brewer and Senator Stephens are old campaigners and may be expected to make the sparks fly and to use weapons that leave an imprint. Come and hear them. They will talk to you about Mississippi's highest and best welfare.

GRENADA WHITFIELD SUPPORTERS ORGANIZE

Kemp Mattingly Chairman and S. T. Tatum Secretary. Committee Named and Plans Outlined.

Upon a call issued by Mr. Kemp Mattingly, quite a representative number of Grenada citizens assembled at the mayor's office in Grenada on last Friday night for the purpose of organizing a Whitfield club. Kemp Mattingly was elected chairman and S. T. Tatum was made secretary.

A committee on membership, another on publicity and another on finance was named. There were enrolled that night about 55 members and a large number enrolled since then.

It is not a fight for Whitfield in Grenada County or in the State of Mississippi. It is not a fight against Bilbo or against anybody else, but a fight in behalf of the good name of the State and a fight to make sure of the peace and happiness and the prosperity of the future of the commonwealth. Of course so far as Bilbo or anybody else stands as a barrier to these things, they will of necessity be more or less subjects of discussion. The fortunes of no one man should stand in the way of the attainment of the highest and the best for the commonwealth. Men count for little, but truth, justice and principles are abiding.

The Conner men of Grenada County are behind the movement for a big vote for Whitfield just as they would have been behind Conner, had he been in the second primary. Indeed Bilboism is one of the very things Mike Conner has undertaken to kill in Mississippi and his friends could hardly be true to what he proclaimed from one end of the State to the other and now not rally to the only medium to help to give him and his satellites the final knockout, and then stand and watch the count.

So the slogan is, "Join the Whitfield club and thereby enroll yourself with those who are striving for the political redemption of Mississippi."

WESTERN UNION TO CLOSE AT 6 O'CLOCK P. M.

Beginning August 20, the office of the Western Union Telegraph Co., in Grenada will close at six o'clock every afternoon and will not be open at night. The telegraph office at the depot will handle messages but in case of death or other emergency the local operator may be called at his residence and, under such circumstances, he will handle the telegrams.

A free ticket to see Harold Lloyd in "Safety Last" which will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 21-22, will be given to Mrs. Hortense Darby of Holcomb if she will call at Grenada Opera House.

Sec. 2. Said curbing, guttering, storm-sewering and paving of said portions of said respective streets, according to said plans, specifications and drawings, is hereby declared and adjudged to be a special improvement which is necessary and which requires an unusual outlay and expense, in excess of the general improvement fund of said city and in the judgment of the Mayor and Aldermen the general improvement fund of said city should not be used for the purpose of making such special improvements.

Sec. 3. Said curbing, guttering, storm-sewering and paving will be done according to and as provided by the plans, specifications and drawings prepared by J. H. Dorrah, engineer, and adopted by the Mayor and Aldermen therefor, and the paving shall be of sheet asphalt and the curbing and guttering of concrete, and all of said special improvements shall be made and done according to and as provided by said plans, specifications and drawings aforesaid.

Sec. 4. Said curbing, guttering, storm-sewering and paving on said respective portions of said streets will be ordered to be done, and two-thirds of the cost thereof (exclusive of the cost of constructing such improvements in street intersections) will be required to be borne by the owners of property abutting on said respective portions of said streets where same are to be so specially improved, by the owners of abutting property on one side thereof of paying one third of the cost thereof and the owners of abutting property on the opposite side thereof paying one-third thereof, and the City's paying the remaining one-third of the cost thereof in addition to the cost of such improvements in street intersections, unless within ten (10) days after the completion of the publication of this resolution as required by city charter there is filed a protest against said respective improvements on said streets by a majority of the property owners residing on or otherwise occupying property owned by them and included within such respective portions of said streets to be so specially improved as above set forth, or unless the Mayor and Aldermen at its September 3rd, 1923, meeting to be held at the Mayor's Office at 8 o'clock P. M., shall allow such objections as may be presented, heard and determined against said respective improvements, and at said meeting there will be heard and considered such objections as may be made against said special improvements, or parts thereof, by any person interested, giving to all persons the right to be heard in person or by attorney or both.

Sec. 5. Any property owner may make such special improvements for himself, as allowed by the city charter, but for the sake of uniformity in the work, such special improvements shall be made according to the plans and specifications and drawings adopted therefor and within thirty days after the order is passed by the Mayor and Aldermen for such improvements, and if any such abutting property owner shall fail to so specially improve the portion of such street so required to be improved by him as required and within 30 days after the order of the Mayor and Aldermen therefor, the Mayor and Aldermen will cause same to be done and the portions of the cost and expense thereof assessable as herein provided against such abutting property will be so assessed and required to be paid as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That this resolution take effect and be in force from and after passage, and published as required by city charter.

CARD FROM CRAWLEY

Kosciusko, Miss., Aug. 13, 1923.

To the People of the Fifth Judicial District of Mississippi:

From the very bottom of my heart I thank my many friends for the loyal support they gave me and for the overwhelming victory they won for me in this recent primary.

I shall endeavor to show my full appreciation by striving each day to make them a better public official, to make them a District Attorney upon whom they can depend, one in whom they can repose their confidence, and one upon whom they can safely rely in any crisis that may arise.

To those who voted for my opponent I have the kindest feelings, I shall be the District Attorney for the WHOLE PEOPLE of the District and regardless of whether they voted for or against me, those who have business in my Court shall receive courteous attention and respectful treatment.

Thanking the people again and again for the courteous treatment accorded me during this campaign and for their expression of confidence in me, I beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) DAVID E. CRAWLEY.

(c) Main street, from Second street to the southern end of Main street-the paving on this street to be forty feet wide, being twenty feet on each side of the centre thereof.

(d) Line street, from north end of intersection of Line and Main Streets to Old Middleton Road.

(e) Second street, from I. C. R. R. Crossing to Line street.

(f) Dock street from Depot street to south end of Dock street and Line street from South street to Margin street.

(g) South street from Water Street to Line street-the paving on this street to be thirty feet wide, being fifteen feet on each side of the centre thereof.

(h) Margin street from Commerce street to Line street.

(i) Harvey street from Main street to College street, all in the city of Grenada, Mississippi.

Sec. 2. Said curbing, guttering, storm-sewering and paving of said portions of said respective streets, according to said plans, specifications and drawings, is hereby declared and adjudged to be a special improvement which is necessary and which requires an unusual outlay and expense, in excess of the general improvement fund of said city and in the judgment of the Mayor and Aldermen the general improvement fund of said city should not be used for the purpose of making such special improvements.

Sec. 3. Said curbing, guttering, storm-sewering and paving will be done according to and as provided by the plans, specifications and drawings prepared by J. H. Dorrah, engineer, and adopted by the Mayor and Aldermen therefor, and the paving shall be of sheet asphalt and the curbing and guttering of concrete, and all of said special improvements shall be made and done according to and as provided by said plans, specifications and drawings aforesaid.

Sec. 4. Said curbing, guttering, storm-sewering and paving on said respective portions of said streets will be ordered to be done, and two-thirds of the cost thereof (exclusive of the cost of constructing such improvements in street intersections) will be required to be borne by the owners of property abutting on said respective portions of said streets where same are to be so specially improved, by the owners of abutting property on one side thereof of paying one third of the cost thereof and the owners of abutting property on the opposite side thereof paying one-third thereof, and the City's paying the remaining one-third of the cost thereof in addition to the cost of such improvements in street intersections, unless within ten (10) days after the completion of the publication of this resolution as required by city charter there is filed a protest against said respective improvements on said streets by a majority of the property owners residing on or otherwise occupying property owned by them and included within such respective portions of said streets to be so specially improved as above set forth, or unless the Mayor and Aldermen at its September 3rd, 1923, meeting to be held at the Mayor's Office at 8 o'clock P. M., shall allow such objections as may be presented, heard and determined against said respective improvements, and at said meeting there will be heard and considered such objections as may be made against said special improvements, or parts thereof, by any person interested, giving to all persons the right to be heard in person or by attorney or both.

Sec. 5. Any property owner may make such special improvements for himself, as allowed by the city charter, but for the sake of uniformity in the work, such special improvements shall be made according to the plans and specifications and drawings adopted therefor and within thirty days after the order is passed by the Mayor and Aldermen for such improvements, and if any such abutting property owner shall fail to so specially improve the portion of such street so required to be improved by him as required and within 30 days after the order of the Mayor and Aldermen therefor, the Mayor and Aldermen will cause same to be done and the portions of the cost and expense thereof assessable as herein provided against such abutting property will be so assessed and required to be paid as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That this resolution take effect and be in force from and after passage, and published as required by city charter.

LESSON FOR AUGUST 19

STEPHEN, THE MARTYR

LESSON TEXT—Acts 6:1-7:60.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation or distress or persecution or famine or nakedness or peril or sword?"—Rom. 8:35.

DEVOTIONAL READING—Rom 8:31-39.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How Stephen Showed His Love for Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Stephen Speaks Boldly for Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The First Christian Martyr.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Spirit of Stephen in the Modern Church.

1. Stephen, the Deacon (6:1-8).

The early church was threatened with dissension over suspected partiality in the distribution of alms. Up to this time it would seem that the apostles did all the work. In view of such burdens, perhaps some things had been neglected. However, the church proved itself capable of meeting the exigency. A congregational meeting was called; the case placed before the church and the church instructed to select seven spirit-filled men of good reputation to administer the temporalities of the church, giving the apostles the necessary time for prayer and the ministry of God's word. Thus we see how that the Spirit-guided church was able to solve its own problems, and how church government developed. Just as the deacon's office sprang out of this dissension, so new needs called forth new officers. Among the seven deacons, Stephen had first place. While engaged in his duties as deacon, he sprang into the light as an eloquent and powerful preacher. So mighty was his ministry that the number of disciples greatly increased; even many of the priests believed.

2. Stephen Before the Council (6:9-15).

1.—Disputing With Stephen (vv. 9, 10).

Certain foreign speaking Jews took the lead in this controversy. Perhaps the fact that Stephen was a Grecian Jew provoked them to the act. He was more than a match for them while the debate was carried along the lines of reason and Scripture.

2.—Charged With Blasphemy (vv. 11-14).

They trumped up this charge and endeavored to support it by secretly finding and inducing men to perjure themselves in their testimony. Stephen showed in his preaching that God's purpose was progressive and that the policy instituted by Moses should be superseded by the new faith, since this was the culmination of what Moses began. He showed that the old dispensation would be superseded by the new and that the church would come out into the liberty of Christ.

3.—Stephen's Face Transfigured (v. 15).

He was so completely filled with Christ that his face shone as the face of an angel. It was Christ shining through him.

4.—Stephen's Defense (7:1-53).

In refuting their charge he showed by the history of God's dealing with the Jews that they had always resisted Him. Therefore their present attitude was because they were unwilling to move forward with the divine purpose. As pointed out by Stiffer four points stand out in his defense:

1. God's dealings with the Jews showed progress. The end was not reached by a single leap but by gradual stages.

2. The temple was not the only holy place. God appeared at different places and at different times.

3. Israel invariably opposed God as He tried to lead them on.

4. He showed his loyalty to Moses by constantly referring to him.

IV. Stephen Stoned (7:54-60).

1.—Looked Steadfastly Into Heaven (v. 55).

This was the secret of his calm. If he had looked about him he might have been afraid.

2. He saw the glory of God.

A vision of God's glory can only be seen by those who are loyal unto Him, even unto death.

3. He saw Jesus standing on the right hand of God. The fact that Jesus was standing shows that He is actively interested in the suffering of His faithful witnesses.

4. Cast him out of the city and stoned him.

5. His prayer (v. 60). How like that of Jesus on the cross. Christ so completely filled him that he could thus act.

6. He fell asleep (v. 60). The Christian's death is only a sleep. This sublime scene must have vitally affected Saul who was consenting unto his death.

VOTE FOR T. T. O'BRYANT FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

T. T. O'BRYANT, of Panola County.
Candidate for Railroad Commissioner

Has been tried as a Sheriff, as a supervisor, as a Chancery Clerk, and in all made good. He is a business man; but he is also a people's man. He can see through a proposition as quick as the next one and is peculiarly qualified for the Duties of Railroad Commissioner. VOTE FOR HIM AND MAKE NO MISTAKE.

Mr. O'Bryant led the ticket in the first by a large plurality, indicating that he has made a favorable impression on the people throughout the District. A good number of the counties gave him a majority vote over both of his opponents, which assures him that he is the first choice of the people of these counties. The second primary will be held on the 28th of August, and he feels that his friends who supported him on the 7th, will continue to take an active part in his behalf, and thereby make the final count show him a winner by an overwhelming majority. He insists, as he has through the campaign, that he is making the race strictly upon a business basis, promising the people that he will exert every effort to assist in having the affairs of the Mississippi Railroad Commission conducted in such a manner as will insure a SQUARE DEAL to all concerned.

STELLA VITAE ENDED TROUBLE

Mrs. Lott Enjoying Best of Health
Since Taking Stella Vitae

"My health is better now than it has been in years and it was nothing but Stella Vitae that brought me around," said Mrs. R. S. Lott, a resident of Wiggins, Miss.

"Eight months ago I was suffering terribly from painful and delayed menstruation which had been worrying me for a long time. My head ached dreadfully at times, and those bearing-down pains all through my body made me miserable night and day.

"I took one bottle of Stella Vitae and felt so much better that I tried two more and now I am enjoying the best of health. My periods are regular and all those pains and aches are gone."

Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

Druggists are supplied by the Van Vleet Mansfield Drug Company, Memphis, Tenn.

THE PERILS OF CONSTIPATION

The Disease That Wrecks the Whole Body. Quickest Way to Get Well Is Through New Treatment Containing Seventeen Ingredients That Renew Every Part of the Body.

Constipation affects directly every organ in the body, due to the fact that the liver does not carry the bile out of the system, thus putting an extra burden on the kidneys that overtaxes and weakens them, filling the blood with all manner of disease germs that are carried through the veins into every nook and corner of the body. That is why any remedy that merely temporarily relieves constipation is insufficient and you become addicted to the constant use of strong purgatives that weaken and deplete the system. In order to get permanent relief, a complete systemic treatment is necessary.

This complete treatment is found only in a prescription called Re-Cu-Ma, which contains seventeen well known and thoroughly tested medicines, so skillfully compounded that each one performs its function on the various parts of the body perfectly and harmoniously.

This remarkable prescription goes right to work on a torpid liver, immediately cleanses the colon of its accumulation of poisonous refuse which, according to Prof. Metchnikoff of the Pastuer Institute, is the direct cause of all our aches and pains. In addition, Re-Cu-Ma improves the digestion, relieves the kidneys of their over-burden, purifies the blood stream and you are soon aware of an absence of those dull headaches, back pains, nervousness, dizziness, inertia and rheumatic pains—you feel full of vigor and pep, eat anything you like without bad after effects and sleep like a log.

Re-Cu-Ma is sold and recommended by 2d Class Drug Store and other good drug stores and if you don't feel a decided change in your condition after taking according to directions, you get your money back. (adv.)

weather stays cold.

Grenada County grows lespedeza second to none. It grows wild, grows it under cultivation, and it takes the fields that there is no time to plow. Time is coming when it should be cut and cured. There are other wild grasses which make a good hay. This month is a hay month. A ton put away now is worth money later on. If too much is stacked, it may be sold. If too little is saved, the cows go dry. And right there is the point.

Corn will yield light over the state. It will be higher in price. Hay is a salvation. A way out of trouble. Cut twice what you planned to cut, and be safe.

HOLCOMB ITEMS

The Woman's Home Demonstration Club of Holcomb met Monday afternoon with fourteen in attendance.

"Preparing and canning fruits and vegetables" for the Fair was the topic for the afternoon. At the next meeting a dress form will be made.

The Girls Canning and Gardening Clubs of Holcomb met at the home of Mrs. James Elliott Friday afternoon. Interesting reports were given and Miss Lee gave a lesson on club sewing.

The Holcomb girls are planning up to capture some of the blue ribbons at the Grenada Fair this fall. Grenada County sent four Club girls to A. & M. College to attend the annual state short course in Home Demonstration Work.

Millinery, Basketry, Nutrition, Canning etc., were among the things taught. The girls were accompanied by Miss Lee, our efficient demonstrator. She carrying them in her car. The girls are very much indebted to the merchants and business men of Grenada who paid their board at the college.

Miss Lee was one of the instructors. She taught basketry, assisted in making a dress form, also had charge of the Bread contest. Grenada County is fortunate in having such an able instructor as Miss Lee among them.

Mrs. J. L. Elliott of Holcomb also attended her short course for a few days representing the Grenada County Council of the Home Demonstration Work. XXX

IRA ROUNSAVILLE TO BEAT FOUR VOTERS

To The Democrats of District 4:

I would be less than human were I not deeply sensible of the work of friends who voted for me and made me one of those to go into the second primary for the office of supervisor. I am sure that even those who voted against me are my friends. I was opposed by two good men. I want to ask my friends to continue their good work until the second race is over; I feel that I know 91 that will do this. If I am re-elected I promise to continue to be faithful, fair and just to all, and that I will render the best service that my experience and judgment makes me capable of. I am under lasting obligations to the people of District 4 for the trust they have already reposed in me. I believe that there is some special work to be done by the supervisors during the next four years in which my experience can be utilized for the benefit of the people of my district, and which a new man would have to learn.

With a heart full of gratitude to my friends and with the very kindest feelings to all, and asking your most careful consideration of my candidacy for the second primary,

I am, Gratefully,

VOTE FOR WHITFIELD

The Sentinel has the satisfaction of being vindicated in the primary election held throughout Mississippi Tuesday, August 7. We have preached the doctrine of "smite 'em" for these years. We have preached that doctrine when some who are now posing as champions of the cause of good government as opposed to Lee Russell and the dynasty which preceded him were either open advocates of that sort of politics or were secretly aiding and abetting those engaged in it. We are glad to see these fellows face about. We give them the glad hand.

It is not a question now of who is best fitted for the governorship, but it is a question between a clean man and honest government and the worst set of political buccaneers that ever infested a State.

One of the greatest contributing factors to the long hoped for result was Lee Mary Russell himself. Russell and his administration served as a dose of ipecac to the people of Mississippi. But we preached that doctrine four years ago, yet there were some right here in Grenada who are a bit vociferous now that either did not vote against Lee or voted for him. Just well keep the record straight while we move forward. These good people as well as several thousand others in Mississippi were just four years behind us. Some of those who have sought to make a mountain out of the fact that Conner obeyed the mandate of the War Department and remained at his official post, had a chance to vote in 1919 for Oscar Johnston, a man who did resign a seat in the legislature and who declined an officer's commission and went into the Tank service, the most hazardous in the Army, voted for Russell, a man who not only obstructed the draft but every other war activity. Let's not be too quick to forget some very important things.

Whitfield is morally clean. He is honest. We believe that he can be counted on at all times to do what he believes to be best for the welfare of the public. In this connection the words of Montaigne come to us. "All other knowledge is hurtful to the man who has not honesty."

Against Whitfield in the second primary is Bilbo. He needs no introduction to the people of Mississippi. Gov. Brewer told the people of the State about him in 1915, but they stiffened their necks and hardened their hearts. The record shows that we told them a few things ourselves in 1915. Nevertheless we find some people crying out today, "let me hit 'im first" who proclaimed him a persecuted hero in 1915. There are, alas, too many who are too slow to learn. Again we repeat, "Let's keep the record straight." Those who have faced about on Theodore are just eight years behind us.

In passing, it is well to observe that all who kept company with Russell or whose coattail he tried to ride, went up Salt river on August 7. Lee Russell has always been a coattail rider. In this campaign he rode the coattail of Stokes Robertson, and as a result, he rode that gentleman to defeat. It seems that nobody who did not allow Russell to play in his back yard wanted the little office of land commissioner, hence the election of Moore. Bilbo alone is left to tell the tale of those who rode booted and spurred over the sacred traditions of Mississippi just a few years ago. Even he says that Lee Russell is dead and walking around but does not know it. Theodore, you told the truth one time.

The work of redemption which we have stood for and for which The Sentinel has striven for in past elections, and for which Mike Conner battled in this campaign, should be completed by the nomination of Whitfield on August 28.

Again we repeat that we feel that the preachments we have been making in these years have not been in vain. Yet it can be but a bit amusing and make one wonder at the caprices of the human mind to observe the "me tooers" who are now quite numerous since the enemies of good government are on the run. But it is good to see so many get right and come up and share in the victory which others have almost literally fought and died to win.

Whitfield's personality cuts bit little figure. It is a matter of principles and of issues. And in this campaign, as in the campaign when Hubert D. Stephens administered the knockout drops to Vardaman last year, the good women of Mississippi make sure of the final "house cleaning" which Mike Conner asked for from Yellow Rabbit to Vinegar Bend.

We have not changed our position. We are right where we were. Many others have come to where we have stood for these years.

JUDGE MAY QUASH JURY.

The supreme court Monday rendered an important decision on the question of jury service. The question was presented in a case appealed from Lauderdale at a term of court where the circuit judge had quashed the entire jury list as drawn by the board of supervisors on the ground that some of those on the list had served on other juries during the two years immediately preceding. As the law says supervisors shall not list as jurymen those who have served within a certain time immediately preceding the year in which drawn. The supreme court held that if this law is not obeyed by supervisors the trial judge can quash the entire jury list and draw new juries.—Lauderdale Co. Herald.

Somebody close to Lee Russell, and it evidently comes from Lee Mary himself, is making the statement that Lee's stand with Stokes Robertson is what "killed cock robin." The truth is had not Stokes Robertson had Lee to carry, he would have won the fight. Those against Robertson are mighty glad that Lee was backing him.

BILBO SAYS HE IS "A BETTER MAN."

Far be it from us to deny any one the opportunity of "another chance." Every honest, sincere minded human being believes in the doctrine as announced by our Savior to the accused woman, "Go and sin no more." But in giving a man "another chance," it ought not to be at the risk of two million people or at the risk of adding another dark spot to those placed upon the good name of Mississippi by Bilbo himself and by one of his then confederates whom he sponsored for the office of Governor four years ago.

Bilbo says "I am a better man now than when I was elected eight years ago," and he gives such an emphasis to the word "better" in making that statement as to make it readily understood that he knows that those who pointed the accusing finger at him at that time had ample and sufficient grounds for what they did.

Let's look backwards a moment: Bilbo confessed to having accepted a bribe of $645. to vote against Vardaman at the legislative session of 1911, and later the John Armstrong check for $100.00, given at Vardaman's headquarters, turns up, a check which was given Theodore to keep him from deserting Vardaman. In other words, Theodore was taking money from both sides.

When he was Lt. Governor and when Gov. Brewer was out of Mississippi, the hurried rush of a man from St. Louis with ten thousand dollars is recalled and upon this man's reaching Jackson, Carter, who killed Dr. Wendall of Aberdeen, was pardoned. Carter's father was a very wealthy man and lived in St. Louis.

Later he is found consorting with Hobbs in an effort to obtain money for his services in aiding in forming what is now the new County of Humphreys. So strong was the evidence against him in this matter that he was indicted by a jury of 18 men. He was not convicted; but we know that there are many guilty men who get by the courts.

Hobbs became conscience stricken and wrote a book in which he revealed the whole story.

In spite of these and other things, a wild and unrestrained sentiment elected him Governor in 1915.

Space forbids the enumeration of his official tergiversations here, but the insane hospital scandal wherein Bilbo backed the superintendent he had appointed in making a sort of harlot house of that institution, designed for the State's unfortunates, is alone enough to bar him from further official preferment.

When he retired from office, if we are to believe what Russell is reputed to have said, he undertook to bargain and deal in pardons, and the reading public is familiar with the Goldsby pardon wherein Bilbo, acting with two or three other political associates, extracted from the poor negro in jail on a whiskey charge practically all of what the negro had, and the record showed that the negro had something like $15,000.00 in cash.

When Russell became entangled with Francis Birkhead, Bilbo consorted with Russell and did what he could to protect Russell from exposure until after the close of the gubernatorial campaign between him and Johnston in 1919.

When the suit was filed by Miss Birkhead, Bilbo broke into print and, among other things, said, in an interview published in the daily newspapers January 7, 1922: "When I am called upon to do so, I shall tell the whole truth of what I know in this connection. In the meantime I can assure my former friend, Russell, that he need not fear me unless he also fears the truth. In that event, 'Lay on MacDuff and damned be he who cries hold enough.'"

Yet when summoned to court at Oxford he faced about, dodged the officers and refused to appear at the trial. Now he says that he refused to appear to protect "a former friend." Well, that statement does not square with the Jackson interview. Which shall one believe? The truth, no doubt is, Bilbo found that if he appeared at Oxford Russell was going to expose some things on him. He was afraid to attend the court and stayed away to protect his own hide.

Personally we do not feel unkindly to Bilbo. We just somehow have a jolly feeling for the "cuss." We had rather do him a personal favor than an unkindness.

But in view of his record, he is asking the people of the State a pearl of high price when he seeks to be at the head of the State government for four more years.

Let any who are thinking about voting for him ask, "what would you think of any lady of good repute who was frequently in Bilbo's company?"

We repeat that we would not do him an unkindness, still there are thousands of people whom we would not do an unkindness, that we would not trust with sacred and serious obligations. He needs to tarry in Jericho and give more evidence of repentance before being placed in the Governor's office.

We would remind him of the Savior's advice: "Go and sin no more," get further away from past misdeeds. He wants too much and proposes to give too little in return.

We are really sorry for Lester Franklin. Russell was a load that the little man could not carry, and he went back to Clarksdale a sadder but a wiser man. Franklin is a clean fellow and really does not belong with the bunch he was yoked up with.

The final political obsequies were held over what little remains of Lee Russell, August 7.

Every candidate that bore Lee Russell's stamp was made to skiddoo—23.

A cleaner and a better Mississippi is the battle cry for the second primary, August 28.

Bilbo makes bold to claim that nobody will meet him in joint debate. Did Theodore ever hear of a lion fighting a skunk, yet the lion is king of all beasts?

Russell sees the handwriting on the wall and has tendered his services to the Whitfield campaign committee, and proposed to write some letters. It is stated on good authority that Lee was told, that his services as a speaker or as a letter writer were not desired.

LAGRONE'S CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank the good people of Grenada County for the fine vote given me in the first primary for Railroad Commissioner.

I have led the ticket, receiving over 30,000 votes in the District. Have carried my home county, Clay, receiving 1918 votes out of a total of 2314. My opponent lost his home county by 670 votes. I led the ticket in Panola County, the home of my opponent.

I have made a clean race, without a single resort to political chicanery. I was not inclined to spend money lavishly, or extravagantly in the campaign. I have always believed that the sovereign voters of Mississippi could not be influenced in their vote by the extravagant use of money in political campaigns. I expect to continue my campaign in a clean and frank manner, carrying it into every nook and corner of the District.

I shall always be grateful to my many friends throughout the District, who have stood by me so loyally, and I earnestly solicit the vote and influence of every good man and woman and I promise the best service that I can render, I am,

Sincerely yours,

WITH THE FUNNY MEN

ABSOLUTELY HEARTLESS

"What is the title of this picture?" asked the wealthy old codger.

"I call it 'A Soul in Travail,'" replied the impecunious artist, "but if you will buy it you may call it anything you like."

"Umph! I can do that without buying it. It's a chromo."

A Timely Tip.

Ned (sternly)—You know you oughtn't to have bought a new hat, for we have exhausted our clothing budget.

Nell (triumphantly)—Don't let a little thing like that worry you! I charged it to "overhead expense" and made it come out perfectly even!

What's a Home Nowadays?

"Yes, sir. I'll take you and the lady out to see one."

"Oh, anything you happen to have on hand will do."

"But, sir—"

"It isn't as if we were buying a car, you know."

Flapper Fairy Tales.

Ludwig—Would you like to have the engagement ring my mother had or shall I go to one of the Fifth avenue stores and get a $500 sparkler for you?

Georgette—Oh, I'd much rather have your mother's; it would be so much more romantic!

Out of Style.

"Mother, I trust you will not weep at my wedding."

"But, my dear daughter, I shall not be able to help it."

"But you must. It is no longer fashionable to shed tears at a wedding."

Continuous Performances.

"Man is born to sorrow," mourned the good deacon.

"Guess that's right," agreed the unregenerate backslider. "About the time our parents leave off spanking us experience begins."

Speaking Right Then.

"My brother," said John J. Meddling, "do you look on life as a blessing or a bore?"

"At the present moment," replied Mr. Grumpson, eyeing his questioner with strong disapproval, "it's 100 per cent boredom."

AN HONEST THIEF

Desk Sergeant—What does the prisoner give as his occupation?

Officer—Says he's a thief.

Desk Sergeant—A thief? Well, he's honest, anyway.

An Epitaph.

Here lies the body of William Jay, Who died maintaining the right-of-way; He was dead right as he sped along, But he's just as dead as if he'd been wrong.

Select.

"These are select apples. Twenty-five and 50 cents a dozen."

"Whaddye mean 'select'?"

"If you select them, they're 50 cents a dozen. If I select them, they're 25."

—Farm Life.

Helping It Out.

"I believe in the office seeking the man."

"Yes, yes, go on."

"But I also believe in letting the office know that you are willing to be sought."

Mixed.

"Jack, dear, I made you believe I wasn't in earnest when I told you I didn't mean what I said, didn't I?"

"I believe so."

"Well, I'll take it all back."—London Tit-Bits.

In Extremis.

Doctor (at bedside)—I fancy he is about ready for the kingdom of heaven.

Ministering Wife—Will you be quiet and him so good a Republican!

—Le Journal Amusant (Paris).

An Optimist.

"Well, he's an optimist, anyhow."

"What's he doing now?"

"Already planning where he'll go fishing when the time for fishing comes."

Unnecessary.

"I never play bridge with my wife."

"Why not?"

"Oh, we've got plenty of other things to wrangle about."

True.

"Pa, does money bring happiness?"

"No, my boy, but mighty few people prefer poverty on that account."

THE PINK SHELL

By JANE GORDON

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

PATIENCE looked out of her little bedroom window far across the blue lake.

There had been so few idle hours in Patience's life. If her parents, at her naming, could have foreseen their daughter's unselfish future they could not have named her more appropriately. This winter had called especially for that virtue. Uncle Thomas, growing querulous in his aged affliction, had taxed even his faithful piece's patience, while Aunt Tilly—well, Aunt Tilly was always just her tyrannical self.

Patience, in the safe quiet of her small room, had daintily lined her dark cape with cheery red. She intended to keep the red side hidden from her aunt's watchful eyes. So today, as she fastened its collar about her throat, her tired blue eyes brightened at the glow the lining gave to her pale cheeks. She fluffed out a little of the soft brown hair that was streaked with silvery strands. The rock that she knew, against the protecting cliff, was warm with sunshine. Patience let the lake breeze lift her waving hair, so that a gold-blond curl tossed close to a gleaming silvery one; then, her gaze half on her sewing and half on the scarlet of her wrap thrown back at the shoulder, she gave herself to pleasant dreams and happy memories.

There was one never-fading memory glowing fresh each springtime, for this memory was the one approach to romance that she, in her buried life, had known. Such a poor little excuse of a romance living on so brightly in its glamour. On just such a day as this, years ago, Patience, in a new cotton frock, had sat on this same rock by her sea. And a red-cheeked young sailor had stopped for a moment to ask direction to a shore boarding house. He was to have but a few hours' leave, this young sailor, and it was his first stopping. And with an eager, unusual impulsiveness, Patience had offered to him the hospitality of her mother's home. Mother had been so understanding, so kindly serving. She had welcomed the lad as she would have wished others to have cared for her own—and Richard Dawn was grateful.

It was a happy dinner party—just the three around the white kitchen table—the young man's dark, steady eyes continually on the girl's face—Patience, in her pink frock, with pink cheeks to match it, listening, her own eyes wide in their first hero worship, to his stories of adventure. She had walked with him afterward, very slowly through the afternoon sunshine, down to this same sheltered rock, where they had lingered in their good-bys. Then he sailed away. Only that. But Patience, through all the stifled years, had not forgotten. Neither had she been unhappy. He had left with her a little pink shell. "It is my talisman," he told her. Never through stormy waters, or in far dangerous places had he been separated from that pink shell. Now he gave it to her—his charm.

His possession of the pink shell was part of one of the tales of adventure that had widened the young girl's eyes in hero worship. She kept it still, carefully, in a small blue jewel case on the dresser in her room, facing the lake. And surely, to her, it had been charm-evoking in trying hours—one past hour of happiness.

The wind lifted her scarlet-lined cape, flaunting its color like a flag; the wind, too, whipped scarlet color into her wan cheeks. Patience lifted her eyes to see a man standing before her—a sailor, undoubtedly.

"If you please," he said, "could you direct me to a near boarding place, or does this isolated spot boast a hotel?"

Patience arose, trembling, staring. You see, she had never forgotten, and she was untaught in the school of dissembling. The big, smiling man misunderstood her hesitation.

"Your red cape sort of flagged me," he laughingly explained. "Set you out, as it were, from the rest of the folks on the beach—so I came straight to you for information."

Patience put up her hand with a characteristic gesture, then she, too, smiled.

If Richard Dawn of the past had forgotten, then she must feign to forget an episode. Only an episode after all, and the world is wide. The man had traveled and—lived. She had stayed in the cove by the big rock—and dreamed.

"I think," she faltered, "that my aunt will serve you dinner if you wish." She arose, leading the way.

If Richard—if this big, pleasant man of the sea wished to remain over night, her own little room might be arranged for his occupancy; she could sleep on the couch in the lower hall, as she had done many times before.

Dawn, coming down to breakfast the following morning, told her that he had made the discovery. "I remembered you," he said gravely, "when you smiled yesterday—when you touched your hair. Queer how a man can remember small things like that—through years—across a world."

Travel had absorbed him—travel and ambition. But now Richard Dawn was back, and he remembered.

It was not very long after when Patience, Captain Dawn's wife, stood on the deck of his steamer, that she showed to her a small pink shell. "When I saw this on the dresser in the room that you gave me I knew," he told her, "that I dared hope still for my lucky charm to bring me happiness."

ATKINSON-HORTON

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Sunday, August 12, at high noon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cowles Horton in Grenada, when Miss Mary Louise Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Horton, became the bride of Mr. Ernest Sidney Atkinson, Jr., of Jackson, Miss., Rev. J. R. Countiss saying the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony. Only relatives and a few close friends of the contracting parties were present.

The lovely home had been made even more lovely for the occasion, being decorated in pink roses and ferns.

The bride was very becomingly attired in a beautiful fall model one piece tricot dress with hat and accessories in harmony and she wore a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and ostrich tips.

Miss Clyde Traylor of Jackson, a friend of the bride, presided at the piano, playing Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Immediately after the ceremony, the happy pair left on the south-bound train for a ten days' trip to New Orleans, Gulfport and Biloxi and upon their return, they will be at home to their friends at 420 High Street, Jackson, Miss.

The groom is a promising young business man of Jackson. Mrs. Atkinson was born and reared in Grenada County and comes from one of the most substantial families of the county. She is a very lovely and most estimable young woman and her husband should count himself fortunate on winning her heart and hand.

The out-of-town guests present were Mr. Atkinson of Jackson, a brother of the groom, Miss Clyde Traylor of Jackson, Miss Marjorie Burt of Oakland and Miss Ione

Stone of Tupelo.

On Saturday night preceding the marriage, Mrs. Cowles Horton entertained with a delightful buffet supper in honor of the bride and groom and for the out-of-town guests.

The Sentinel joins in extending best wishes and much happiness.

STAF-O-LIFE

A Square Meal With Dessert for Horses and Mules

If you could buy the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of STAF-O-LIFE Horse Feed and blend them as skilfully, you would have the finest horse ration that science can produce—But it would come high.

There is no finer feed for horses and mules than Corn, Oats and Alfalfa. STAF-O-LIFE contains these ingredients in a softened, crushed, easily digested form, made rich and palatable with Pure Molasses.

STAF-O-LIFE is economical because it is perfectly balanced—just enough of each ingredient to supply bone and muscle and to build up wasted tissues and energy.

But you cannot produce, grind or mix a well balanced ration as cheaply as you can buy STAF-O-LIFE. Four tons of STAF-O-LIFE will go farther than five tons of straight grains and at much lower cost.

One of the very lovely social functions of the season was the reception given on Friday afternoon of last week by Mrs. J. R. Countiss and Mrs. R. A. Tucker in honor of Mrs. S. C. Pecot, the only daughter of the former, and Mesdames Geo. Jones, a sister of Rev. R. A. Tucker, of Baton Rouge, and Mrs. Earl Tucker, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Tucker's, of Hickman, Ky. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Countiss who presented them to the honorees. They were then led to the punch bowl where Misses Margaret Moody and Heard Lawrence dispensed delicious punch. There was such a real genuineness about the whole affair that all went away with the most happy thoughts of not only the very delightful hostesses but of their very attractive honorees.

Misses Bernice and Heard Lawrence entertained at bridge on Saturday morning, last, in honor of Miss Alleen Bridgers who came in from her very delightful country home to spend the week-end with them.

The stately and hospitable home of Mrs. Roland W. Jones, six miles in the country, was made to ring with additional cheer on Friday morning of last week when the very beautiful and charming matron of this home entertained a number of her Grenada friends at bridge.

Miss Lucy Talbert, the very attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dogan, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. G. Talbert, in Water Valley.

W. V. Dubard and family left a week ago in their car for Granger, Texas, where Mrs. Dubard's mother resides. They will visit a number of places in Texas while away. In a letter to his father, W. M. Dubard, Mr. Dubard writes that the gins are running at Waco and that the fields are white with cotton.

Prof. John Rundle spent Wednesday in Jackson.

Doughnuts, cake, pie, biscuits—O, how good they taste, when they're baked with Valier's Dainty Flour!

Dainty is the finest flour you can buy. Its high quality is always uniform. Things baked with it are always perfectly delicious.

Dainty is rich with the golden goodness of sun-ripened, soft winter wheat—carefully selected, and slowly milled by our own special process.

Naturally, the price of Dainty is a little higher than that of ordinary flour. But the difference is many times repaid by better, surer baking and economy inlard. Order a sack of Dainty today.
